

incomparable night which is, in a sense, within time and beyond time. From the Virgin's womb was born a Child, a manger became the cradle of immortal Life. Christmas is the festival of life, because Jesus, [was] born like all of us."

Mary's first thought on hearing the joyful news of Christ's coming birth from the Angel Gabriel was to set off from her home and we are told that she went in haste to help her kinswoman Elizabeth, who was also pregnant and in need of assistance (Luke 1:38-39). We then have the beautiful encounter of Jesus and John the Baptist with their mothers before either of the children were born. We are all called to follow Mary's example as Christians by reaching out to those in need in our families, in our community and in our country.

I know that for many of you this Christmas may be tinged with sadness as you remember a loved one who has gone home to God. We can be sure that those who are no longer with us are sharing in the peace of Christ's light in heaven today. And we can be especially close to them when we are celebrating the Eucharist together as the church in heaven joins with the church on earth in praise and thanksgiving to God.

You may look back on past Christmases when a relative or friend who joined you around the Christmas table then is not with us today perhaps because they may have emigrated. And while technology is fantastic, Skype or Facetime are not the same as having someone present. This year we have a new webcam in our Church which broadcasts our services live through the internet. If you have family or friends abroad who would like to join with us over the Christmas period they can log on to the parish website at <http://www.whitehall.dublindiocese.ie/> and click on the link to "Live Services" at the top.

I would like to wish you all a very Happy and peaceful Christmas and ask God's blessing on all your families and friends.

Gerard Reilly is a Permanent Deacon in Donaghmede and Ayrfield parishes.

encounter family, friends and strangers in different circumstances and situations.

As we gather for mass on this Christmas, we give thanks to God for the gift of his Son Jesus to us.

Christmas is not an event that has been frozen in the history of 2,000 years ago but the continuing, living presence of Christ amongst us which effects the lives of millions of people in our World today. And one of the great strengths of our faith is that this day is celebrated by Christians in many different countries, traditions and cultures.

The birth stories about Jesus are found only in the gospels of Matthew and Luke, which we read today. In the birth of Jesus, we see our God made visible to us. The message of Christmas is to love the God we cannot see in the neighbour we can see. This is an important challenge for us all in the coming days when we

Unfortunately, we also know from watching the news during the year, that many Christians, particularly in the Middle East and Africa, have paid the ultimate price for their faith. It is hard to believe that this can be happening in our world today but, unfortunately, it is the case. As the Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew said: "The modern persecutors of Christians do not ask which church their victims belong to. The unity that concerns us is regrettably already occurring in certain regions of the world through the blood of martyrdom."

Speaking at Christmas in the Millennium year, Saint John Paul II said the following about Christmas:

"Today we celebrate the mystery of Bethlehem, the mystery of an

Would you have some time to come visit their residents in Highfield Healthcare in Whitehall or Glasnevin? The main role of volunteers in Highfield is befriending their residents- just there to talk, listen, reminisce and empathise. You could also bring residents to and from activities. Further info. Tel. Helen Hennessy at 01 886 5435 . This can be a challenging role therefore applicants should be in sound health.
