

the place where young people like yourselves will learn the beauty of faith and the joy of living the Gospel."

Speaking at a General Audience in August 2017, Pope Francis spoke about the seasons. He asked, "We are people of spring more than autumn." He went on to explain: "I would like to ask now – each one answer in his heart, in silence, but answer Am I a man, a woman, a boy, a girl of spring or of autumn? Is my soul in spring or in autumn?"

This Sunday we celebrate the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord. We have the wonderful Gospel reading from St. Luke which recalls Mary and Joseph bringing the child Jesus to the temple in Jerusalem where they meet two wonderful older people of faith who offer wise insights: Simeon and Anna. And we hear the inspiring words of Simeon which are part of the Night Prayer of the Church which is said every day: "Now, Master, you can let your servant go in peace, just as you promised; because my eyes have seen the salvation which you have prepared for all the nations to see, a light to enlighten the gentiles and the glory of your people Israel."

Then we are told that the prophetess Anna "spoke of the child to all who looked forward to the deliverance of Jerusalem."

Needless to say, Mary and Joseph are concerned about what they are hearing: "the child's father and mother stood there wondering at the things that were being said about him."

The Gospel today may be asking us to trust in God's plans. God has dreams for us that we can't fully imagine and he invites us to have faith in divine providence. As Saint John Henry Newman wrote: "I have my mission. I may never know it in this life, but I shall be told it in the next. I am a link in a chain, a bond of connection between persons."

Let us pray that, as we begin this new season of Spring, that we will be inspired to become what God has called us to be and that we will follow the path that he has prepared for each and every one of us. Despite our challenges, we can be confident that Jesus will accompany us on our journey.

*"We are people of spring
more than autumn."*

2nd February 2020

This is the first Sunday of February and marks the beginning of the Celtic season of Spring, which started yesterday on the Feast of St. Brigid, on February 1st. We are already beginning to see the first signs of the season as the new flowers are starting to appear in our parks and gardens. I was delighted to see cherry blossoms in our back garden last week. As the song says: "I've always loved spring time, the passing of winter. The green of the new leaves and life going on".

We also have a new Springtime in our Church with Pope Francis who is such a fantastic role model and example for all Christian people. I have recently read an article entitled "The Last Monk of Clonmacnoise" which spoke about what it must have been like for the last remaining monks to live out their days in the ruins of the once great monastic foundation near Athlone. And the writer asks "who was the last monk to say mass there and to blow out the last candle?" There is a sense of the end of an era as one age of Christianity passes away but also the emergence of a time of transition as a renewed church emerges by the grace of the Holy Spirit.

It's a good time of the year to think again about our work and ministry and to ask Jesus if he is calling us to spread our wings a bit while also making sure that we have adequate time to refresh and renew ourselves.

Archbishop Diarmuid Martin has also been reflecting on the Springtime in the church. When speaking to young people he said:

"I have seen many changes and been called to challenges that I could not have imagined. My prayer is that your generation will now take on the challenge of renewing the Church for it to be
